

Turn Out the Lights.... The party's over...

Harvard Milk Center Squares

sadly announce the

disbanding of their 41

year-old club.

Increased costs together with aging of many club members cause us to regretfully end our club and its dances in Harvard's historic 1895 school gym. Our final dance was held in May of this year. We want to thank all of the loyal dancers who have supported us all these years and the talented callers and cuers who brought so many enjoyable hours of friendly fun to us and our guests.

Those of us still dancing will still see you "around the square".
